

Colin Marsh

As a CHES member for 18 years, I am deeply aligned with its mission to build expertise in Canadian healthcare engineering and its vision of excellence in patient-care environments through education, innovation, and partnerships. I believe engaged leadership is vital to supporting members and sustaining CHES as a national leader. My leadership reflects CHES values: I prioritize knowledge sharing, foster professional development, encourage cross-disciplinary collaboration, and lead with respect and accountability. As an Executive Committee member, I would contribute strategic insight, practical experience, and a strong commitment to advancing member growth, engagement, and overall organizational success across Canada nationwide efforts.
